

Don E. Chandler
Principal, Municipal Development Services

Don E. Chandler graduated from the University of Georgia with a Masters Degree in Economics with a major field of research in Real Estate Feasibility Analysis. While completing his graduate studies, Chandler was inducted into the International Honorary Society of Economics.

In 1981, Mr. Chandler joined the real estate development firm of Ackerman and Company where he served as a broker for office and industrial properties. While employed at Ackerman and Company, Chandler represented such companies as I.B.M., Burroughs Computers, Xerox and Mizuno. It was during this time that Chandler completed his first transaction with the public sector when he successfully negotiated the lease for the Social Security Services Facility in Marietta, Georgia.

Mr. Chandler formed Municipal Development Services in 1996 to address the development and financing needs of a growing public sector in the State of Georgia. His role in the firm is to orchestrate and guide the development process and to provide project management on all projects. Since its' formation, the firm has assisted counties and municipalities throughout the State of Georgia in providing facilities to house various State Agencies to include the Department of Human Resources, Division of Public Health, the Department of Pardons and Paroles and the Department of Corrections.

Mr. Chandler believes in giving back to the community and supports numerous religious and charitable organizations. He is also active in fundraising for the Georgia Department of Natural Resources as well as other environmental groups. Chandler has served on the Board of Directors of the Forsyth Chapter of the National Homebuilders Association, Georgia Chapter of Safari Club International and currently serves on the Board of Directors of the Georgia Wildlife Federation.

Mr. Chandler and his wife Elizabeth reside in Atlanta.
